A bird's eye view of success!

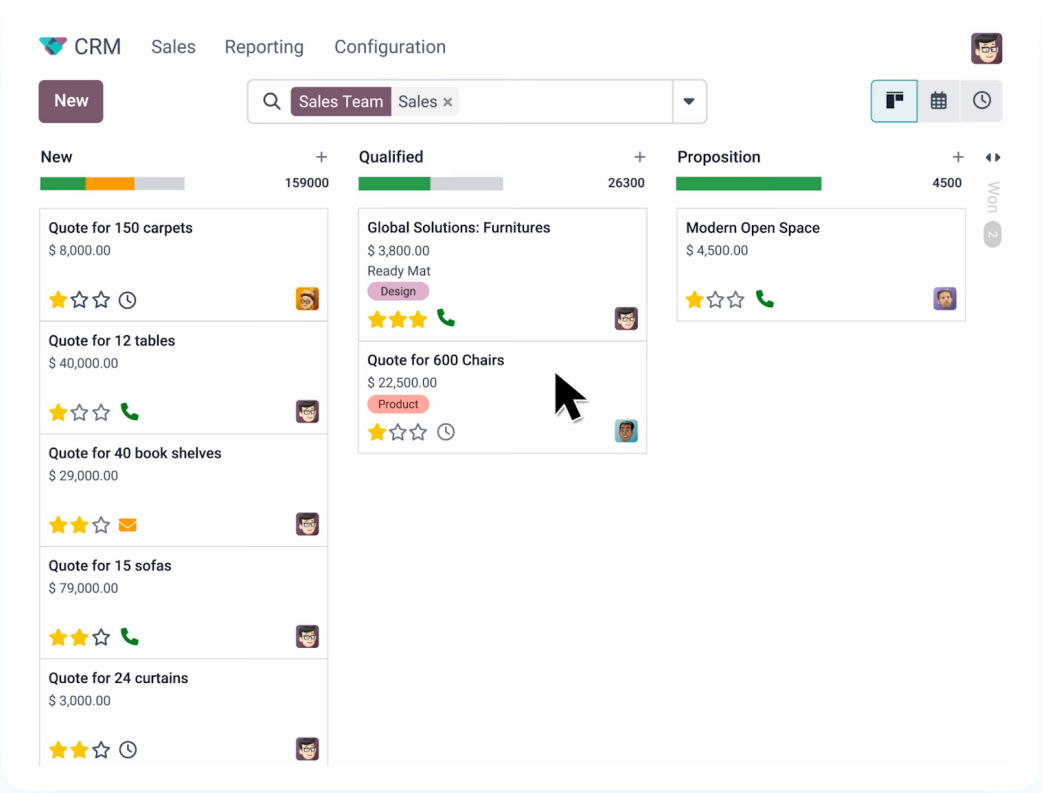

Track opportunities easily in the sales software

Your pipeline at a glance.

In our Customer Relationship Management (CRM) system, each opportunity is listed as a card with all the essential information. Each stage gives an overview of your expected revenues.

Efficient organization

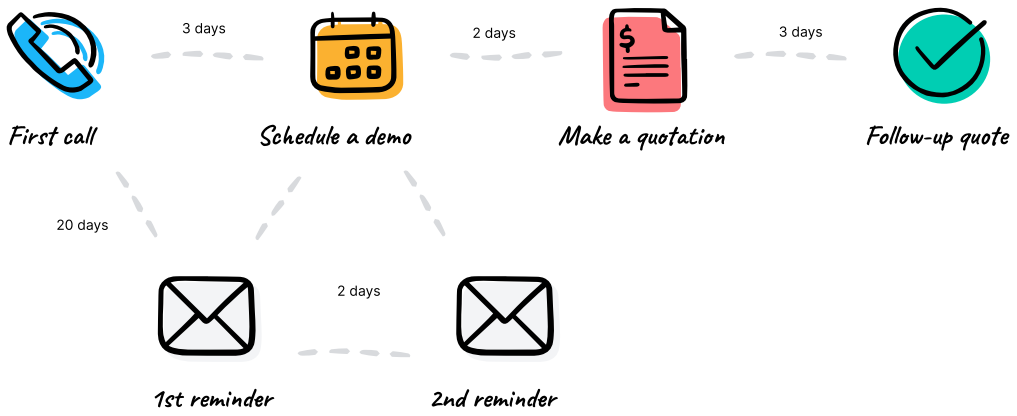

The Kanban view organizes opportunities by stage. Drag and drop them on the pipeline to move them from one stage to another.

Never miss out on a follow-up

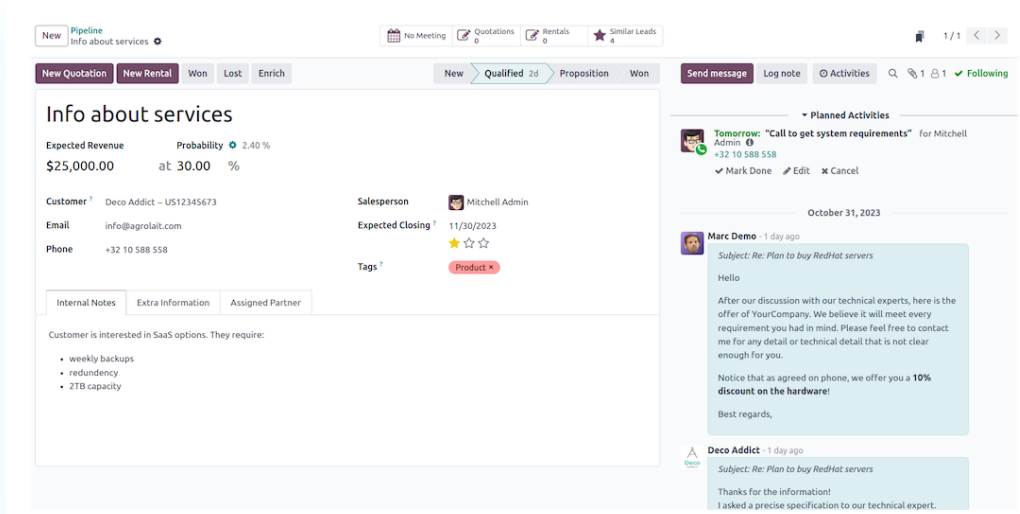

Schedule calls, meetings, mailings, or quotations in a few clicks in the contact management software. Odoo automatically plans the next activity based on your sales script.

Effortless communication means no miscommunication

Communication is key to enhancing customer relationships. Incoming emails are automatically added to your pipeline, and all contact with your team and customers is made from a single place, ensuring easy access to information at all times.
